We are pleased to invite you to attend the conference devoted to family and education. Despite numerous crises which have been affecting the family, it still remains the basic educational environment. As a social group, it is also part of the national educational system which has been undergoing dynamic changes. This dependence shows considerable educational potential which may offer children, teenagers, adults and the oldest family members opportunities for development. We are aware of deficiencies and obstacles in the process of education in the family. We notice great needs in the social dimension of education. Therefore, it is crucially important to organise academic meetings and have discussions on the issue.

Main topics:

1. Education in the family
2. Family in the educational system
3. Social aspects of education
4. Education for ethnic minorities
5. Student session
